

George A. Harris Exponent Of Honest Go-Getter Type Of Service To Town Interests

George A. Harris, who is a candidate for the office of Selectman in the coming election, typifies the generation of men who are conscious today that good citizenship means the offering of their services to town government. Mr. Harris is the energetic, "go-getter" type exemplified by rising young statesmen like our Junior Senator, Henry Cabot Lodge and Secretary of Labor Maurice J. Tobin.

He is a long-time resident of Arlington, and has been intensely and unselfishly interested in the progress of the town. As a home owner here, he has also been a Town Meeting member for over fifteen years. His able and honest activity on the Town Hall floor during Town Meetings is a matter of public record. Being inately modest, he has maintained freedom from any political alliances.

As a concrete evidence of his interest in town government, and his avoidance of special interests, his stand against the costly incinerator a few years ago was of utmost importance to the taxpayer. In addition to vigorously advocating honesty, efficiency and economy in town government, his wide interest embraces ways and means of providing more and better playgrounds for our boys and girls. His efforts were instrumental in obtaining funds to complete many of Arlington's playgrounds. It was he who first sponsored extra life guards at Reservoir Beach and worked to obtain adequate

Nab Woman For Passing Checks

Quick thinking and action by two Needham business women resulted in the arrest of a widely sought fraudulent check passer and the near capture of her companion in Needham Square on Monday afternoon.

This is believed to be the same pair who allegedly passed several worthless checks here in Arlington and several surrounding communities during recent weeks.

The woman identified by police as Miss Margaret S. Deely, 41, of 892 Worthington street, Springfield, was held by the Needham police on Monday night on a charge of larceny by means of a fraudulent check, for appearance in the Norfolk County District Court. Her partner believed by police to be a resident of Thompsonville, Conn, six feet one inch tall, and about fifty years of age, was still at large Monday night after eluding Needham and Newton Police at Newton Corner.

Youth Is Sentenced In Attack On Girl

Francis J. Gallagher, 19, of 8 George Street, North Cambridge, was sentenced to five to eight years in State Prison on Monday, by Judge Frank J. Murray, in Middlesex Superior Court, after Assistant District Attorney M. Edward Viola had recommended ten to twelve years.

Gallagher was convicted last Wednesday of assault and battery with attempt to attack Miss Dorothy Drohan, 24, of Massachusetts Avenue, Arlington. He is under indictment also of criminally attacking Miss Elizabeth Lowenstein, 21, of Mount Vernon Street, Cambridge.

In sentencing Gallagher, Judge Murray stated "I am not taking into consideration the other indictment. I am only taking into consideration his record, and the fact that he was found guilty of the charge by a jury." Much credit is due Officer Frank P. McLaughlin of the Cambridge police for his keen police work in

Prominent Nose And Throat Specialist Attends Convention

The many Arlington friends and patients of Dr. Walter Jellis, of 71 College Avenue, West Somerville, prominent nose and throat specialist and widely known throughout New England, will be interested to learn that Dr. Jellis was one of the principal delegates to the recent conference of nose and throat specialists, held in New York City.

Dr. Jellis, a veteran of both the first and second World Wars has been in active practice in this section since 1920. He served as Lieutenant Commander and later Commander in the Navy during the Second World War.

He was overseas for twenty months, seeing active service at Guadalcanal, where he was Chief of the Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Division, having a force of specialists working under him. He was also Chief of Medicine of the Naval Unit, at Princeton University, for 13 1-2 months during the last war.

Dr. Jellis is a Fellow of the American Academy of Ophthalmology and Otolaryngology, and a member of the American Medical Association. He was formerly on the staff of both the Carney Hospital and the Cambridge City Hospital. He is now Chief of Eye, Ear and Throat at the Somerville Hospital.

He is married, and has one daughter, Mrs. Clover Sears. There is one grandson, David Allison Sears.

Suspect Freed In Assault Case When Arlington Victim Changes Mind On Identity

Victim Is Declared Hostile Witness By Judge Murray

Carl Rockel, 24, of 149 Warren Street, Roxbury, was found not guilty of armed robbery by a jury in Middlesex Superior Court on Tuesday, after the man he was charged with robbing was declared a hostile witness to the Commonwealth by Judge Frank J. Murray.

Ernest R. Varney, Jr., 21, of 40 Fairmont street, Cambridge, employed as a short order cook at the Paul Revere Restaurant, Arlington Centre, victim of the robbery, who required 54 stitches at the Cambridge Hospital as a result of the incident, was declared a hostile witness at the request of Assistant District Attorney M. Edward Viola.

Varney was called as star witness for the Commonwealth's case but, under direct examination, stated that he did not know whether he should go through with the prosecution of Rockel, one of

Hardy School PTA Association Is Active In "Comics" War

Prominent locally for the work they are doing in regard to the matter of censorship of literature for the youth of our community, the Hardy School PTA is deeply interested in the matter of children's reading habits, along with the problem of the so-called "funny books."

The Hardy PTA has a very fine committee for literature censorship, with Mr. Frederick Lewis doing excellent constructive work as chairman.

This committee keeps itself informed on the type of literature being made available to the children of East Arlington at the local newsstands and has consistently sought the cooperation of dealers and town officials in removing from the newsstands obscene and unsuitable literature which might be made available to children. Thru the efforts of this committee, were able to gain the cooperation of two large distributors in keeping unsuitable literature from being delivered to Arlington dealers.

The Hardy P. T. A. believes that censorship of unsuitable literature is but one step in the fight against the insidious evil of the bad comic magazine. They feel that another important step in combating the evil of the comic book is to train and develop the child's taste in literature. If a child has access to really good books, he gradually develops an interest in them which definitely will offset the influence of the bad comic books, and eventually wean him away from them. To this end, the Hardy P. T. A.'s president has brought the comic book problem to the attention of the membership on many occasions, and the group have been hard at work doing everything in their power to further this cause. They were able with the cooperation of the supervisor of elementary schools, Miss Katherine Gregory, and Mrs. Lucinda Spofford, head of the Arlington Public Library, to have a library set up for the children of grades 6 to 8 at the Hardy School. This P. T. A. has also an East Arlington branch library which the citizens of this town can be proud of. They felt that the town should at least purchase a site for such a building on or very close to Mass. Ave. in East Arlington so that it would be attractive and readily accessible to children and adults alike.

The Hardy PTA believe that some day soon Arlington will have sufficient pride in itself and concern for its children to really get to work on this problem and take steps to clean out its newsstand and display good literature where its children can secure it quickly safely, and readily.

Aid For D. P.'s Urged By Bishop

Bishop John Wesley Lord, resident in the Boston Area of The Methodist Church, has asked the lay leaders of the 773 Methodist churches in New England to secure sponsors for displaced persons now in European detention camps.

Calling the D. P.'s "Delayed Pilgrims," Bishop Lord urged the New England Methodist lay leaders to organize a program to find housing and employment for their fellow Methodists who want to come to this country.

In his appeal, Bishop Lord said, "Our Methodist Church is charged with a Christian responsibility in regard to the Displaced Persons now to be admitted to our country by action of the Government. Methodists in European countries are waiting to be received by us. We have their names and all the needed information relatives to their families."

New Grandson Communism Talk At Kiwanis

Professor and Mrs. Leicester F. Hamilton, of this town, are rejoicing on the birth of a grandson, David Hamilton Paulsen, born last week in Bremerhaven, Germany to Mr. and Mrs. David Sibbey Paulsen.

Grandparents honors are shared by Captain Carley H. Paulsen, USNR and Mrs. Helen Paulsen, of Hingham.

funds for this service. He was among the first to advocate a subway extension to Arlington; he worked to continue the Committee on Public Relief; he advocated a Central Purchasing department as long ago as 1942 and is a member of a committee appointed by Moderator Davis to study this phase of economy. He is also a member of two more town appointed committees, the Reclamation and printed Reports committees. He worked for a lift in a basic wage pattern for town employees who were badly caught by the cost of living; he assisted the Salary Committee in its program and worked with the Committee on Change in Town Government.

There probably is no other resident in town more keenly alive to the needs of our community and none more willing to give of his time and ability to seek ways and means of improvement and betterment. Mr. Harris is 44 years old, married, has three children and is a home owner and taxpayer. His background of sound business experience would lend itself in no small measure to administrative duties. His background embraces twenty-four years with one of the Boston newspapers as an executive in charge of Eastern Massachusetts territory.

His town activities include: Precinct 3 as Town Meeting Member for three years; Precinct 8 for 1 year and Precinct 12 for twelve years. He is of the Town Meeting Members who has expressed his opinion at all times on all types of warrant articles. To do this Mr. Harris has spent many hours each year studying the town and its operation.

A member of the Citizens Committee for sixteen years he has served on many of its sub-committees and is presently one of its Vice Chairmen. As a Past President of the Arlington Heights Improvement Association, he has been made a Director for life and from this source learned much about the improvements wanted by citizens. Harris was an Auxiliary Policeman during the war and served as Public Relations man for this organization. As Selectman, George A. Harris says: "He will give real representation to all sections of Arlington, and keep an absolutely open mind on all matters." He has continually advocated that which will benefit the town and the taxpayers and has fought against anything which would be detrimental to Arlington's future.

three men, who police state, allegedly robbed him of 59 cents early on the morning of December 19.

He told Viola during the examination that he had "grave doubts" whether Rockel was a member of the trio, and admitted that he identified Rockel at the Cambridge police headquarters as one of the men who assaulted him.

Viola then asked Judge Murray to declare him a hostile witness to the Commonwealth and Judge Murray did so. The jury deliberated for less than ten minutes before returning the not guilty verdict.

Defense Attorney Peter T. McLaughlin, trying his first case before a jury, after passing the bar last year, in his argument, stated that he had investigated the alleged crime himself, and asserted that he felt the police officers had arrested the wrong man.

Varney told police, prior to the arrest of Rockel, that he was on Harvey Street, in North Cambridge, when the trio jumped on him, slashing him in the chest, abdomen, right arm and leg. He said he was due to work as a cook in the Arlington restaurant at five a. m., and was on his way to visit a friend when the robbery occurred.

According to Varney's story, to police, he walked around in a daze for a half an hour after the incident, and finally called a friend, Lawrence Reinold of 84 Tufts Street, Arlington, who took him to the Cambridge City Hospital.

Doctors took 54 stitches to close the wounds and he remained in the hospital for a week. Varney is a veteran of World War II, and his father is a member of the Cambridge Fire Department.

"Polio Benefit" Nets Large Sum For "Dimes"

Mrs. Raymond McKeever, of 47 Harlow Street, Arlington, general chairman of the recent "Polio Benefit," held for the benefit of the March of Dimes campaign, announces that the affair netted a sum well over one thousand dollars for that worthy cause.

In this connection, Mrs. Mc-

Keever takes this opportunity to express her appreciation and thanks for the loyalty and support accorded the recent benefit by all the townspeople of Arlington, the business people, the newspapers and all social and civic organizations of the town, which made possible the great success of the benefit.

Health and Protection, The Advisory Committee of the U. S. Children's Bureau, and The National Conference for Mental Hygiene. The meeting is open to the public and the Association extends a cordial welcome not only to parents of exceptional children, but to everyone who is interested in their welfare. Mrs. Daniel L. Courtney, 19 Corregidor Court, Roxbury, will preside.
